Most of 1st floor of the house is taken up by a relaxation area and currently consists of 4 bedrooms (one used as a spacious walk-in wardrobe). The basement of the house also hides plenty of storage space.

The connection of the interior's individual functional zones allows for a smooth transition between different activities and brings a feeling of lightness and comfort. Dominant elements of wood naturally insulate the individual rooms and, together with the modern equipment, create an above-standard home. In addition to precise interior lighting, the villa is supplied with plenty of daylight thanks to generous glazing with electric exterior blinds. The high level of user comfort is complemented by a top-quality kitchen with Siemens appliances, a Niko Home Control intelligent household system, and a practical central vacuum cleaner.
