The charming Villa Shanti is located in one of five Thai-style pavilions. The indoor and outdoor living areas with teakwood elements, sleek white lines, and lush gardens that reflect the rural landscape of Phang Nga create a sense of harmony and comfort.

The villa offers 6 elegant bedrooms with en-suite bathrooms, a spacious lounge, a family room, a huge modern kitchen, and a veranda with plenty of space to relax and dine in.

The pavilions are interconnected, with walkways leading to a large garden with mature coconut trees and stunning views of the Andaman Sea. In the middle is a stylish 25 meter long swimming pool, impressively lit in the evenings. The complex boasts its own manager who supervises the staff and property, 24-hour security, and a professional chef.

Phuket Province, the largest island in Thailand located near the mainland, is a popular resort. Sandy beaches are suitable for swimming and surfing and are equipped with a tsunami warning system. The island lies in a temperate zone, where there are no typhoons or tropical storms. There is an international airport on the island, and in the high season there are also direct charter flights from Europe.
